ABOUT

Hammill Workwear is Unisync's professional workwear and servicewear brand.

Since 1929, our Hammill products have focused on the comfort and safety of your most valuable asset—your employees. Our technology-forward designs ensure comfort and durability, while Flame Resistant and High Visibility materials enhance safety, indoors and out, night and day.

Our ability to customize a uniform program to your specific needs gives your company the opportunity to provide high quality, functional and comfortable clothing to your employees, while enhancing your corporate image. Direct Embroidery, Cresting, Screen Printing and Heat Sealing are all available options for the customization of your uniforms. Current programs are supplied to small and large distribution companies, security firms, corporations in the oil and gas industry, electrical utilities and government institutions.

OUR HISTORY

Hammill has been making heavy duty workwear for 83 years.

In fact, Hammill was the very first company in Canada to make an insulated coverall.

Hammill designs apparel with unmatched quality and durability that stands up to the intense demands of workwear.

Workwear has been designed to target the back-end worker in any position that he/she serves, whether in a plant, driving a truck, or on a construction site. Hammill has also developed a specialized niche in High Visibility, Flame Resistant and Safety Clothing. Hammill offers a wide range of high quality and rugged workwear, outerwear and rainwear designed to meet the demands of today's working men and women. From shirts, pants and coveralls, to parkas, fleece pullovers and 100% waterproof clothing, the quality, durability and comfort of our products are unrivaled in the workwear industry.
